To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to provide this recommendation for Patrick Grant. I have worked closely with Patrick for over two years while he served as an auctioneer for Island Hospital Foundation events.

As an auctioneer, Patrick is fun, dynamic and engaging; he builds enthusiasm and excitement by generating a positive rapport with the audience. He has an incomparable ability to identify capable purchasers and eagerly engage them into the bidding process. Patrick understands the complexities of communities and the role of each organization within it as a means to successfully advance the cause at a fundraising event.

Patrick possesses a prodigious personality that blends excitement, charm and wit with integrity, character and class. This is evident in his open communication with volunteers, staff and guests as well as during events when he lights up the room with energy, laughter and raised paddles. From the planning stages to the day of the event, Patrick is responsive to providing real solutions for questions that arise. He proactively addresses how elements of the auction such as sound and décor ultimately create an environment for a successful event – both financially and memorably. All these intangibles are what make Patrick truly unique; he is reliable and willing to assist in any way to facilitate a successful fundraiser.

Outside of the Island Hospital Foundation, Patrick volunteers in his free time at Island Hospital and is a strong supporter of Rotary and other charitable organizations. I volunteered to write this recommendation for Patrick because I am very grateful for not only his exceptional work as an auctioneer, but also for his passionate support and contributions within the community. I highly recommend Patrick Grant as an auctioneer for any size auction and with any audience, knowing he will help an organization exceed their fundraising goals and create a memorable and fun event.

Sincerely,
